This week on Wednesday's Child you can catch Ashley (2004) and Nancy (2001) – sisters who share a creative streak and a fancy for the arts. And with Cirque Du Soleil in town to perform their newest show KURIOS, these intrigued siblings got caught up in our special behind-the-scenes look at this new show and what life can be like for performers living on the road. The pair got to observe rehearsals as well as participate in some hands-on lessons in handling props and juggling.

Ashley (2004), pictured on left above, has a playful side and likes to make people laugh. Ashley enjoys school but can use a little extra motivation at times. Ashley currently holds ideas of being a dentist or lawyer when she grows up. During down time, Ashley enjoys singing and watching Mexican novellas and shares that she is also a big fan of Johnny Depp movies. Ashley and her sister are both bilingual in English and Spanish.

Nancy (2001), pictured on right above, is a friendly and engaging teen with cheerful dimples when she smiles. Nancy has a creative side which was recently reflected when she integrated a poster presentation and costuming for a project in her speech class. When relaxing, Nancy enjoys dancing and, like her sister, enjoys watching Mexican novellas. Nancy is in her school's ROTC program and is looking towards college and perhaps a career in nursing.

These sisters are very close and they love the fact that they have many similarities. And like Cirque Du Soleil's KURIOS show (subtitled "Cabinet of Curiosities"), there are many dimensions to Nancy and Ashley and they are wanting to be part of a family in which they can share all the elements that make them who they are. If you are curious to learn more about Nancy and Ashley and about adoption, grab a seat and catch this segment of Wednesday's Child and then call 866-921-ADOPT (2367).
