Happy 2014! As we ring in the New Year, we welcome the Dave Thomas Foundation for Adoption as the new official sponsor of Wednesday's Child. It's a new partnership with a new logo, but we press on with a mission that remains the same – finding forever families for children in foster care who need adoptive homes. For our first segment under our new sponsor, we gathered Abraham and William and hit the ground running ... or more accurately, we hit the ice skating ... and joined some of the happiest characters around – Mickey, Minnie, Donald, Goofy and the rest of the cast and crew of Disney on Ice – as we got to know these two brothers who are in need of a permanent home with a forever family.

Abraham (2003) can be cautious about new things and welcomed a helping hand on the ice. Abraham does well academically and has a propensity for art in different forms and mediums. Abraham also likes playing video games and basketball.

William (2005) is a kind-hearted and smart young boy who enjoys reading as well as baseball and football. William does well in school and has an aptitude for the sciences – sharing that he wants to be a paleontologist when he grows up. Last year William got the chance to go camping and he now says that camping is his new favorite past-time.

These brothers are currently in separate placements and we know they will be happier characters when they are able to grow up together as part of the same family. We need your help to make 2014 the year for these boys to be part of the same forever family.
