Ready for an instant family? We met this wonderful sibling set of six beautiful children at Chuck E. Cheese in Granada Hills, California to see how a family of six play. Here they are – one by one.

Big sister Christina was born in 1994. She is very protective of her siblings and watches out for them. However, she also has her own interests. Like most girls her age, Christina enjoys shopping for clothes, toys and CDs. She likes to listen to music from radio Disney and Disney channel. Besides playing softball and kickball, and surfing the internet, Christina's hobbies include drawing, reading "Happy Bunny" books and watching the Nickelodeon and Disney channels. Blue is her favorite color. In line with her protective nature, Christina is more reserved among strangers and will engage in conversations once she knows you.

Jasmine was born in 1997. This bright little girl is very observant and inquisitive. She is not afraid to ask questions. Jasmine is very loving and affectionate. She likes red. She is active in sports, such as kickball, soccer, basketball, and handball. Currently, she is on a softball team. Like her sister, Jasmine also enjoys drawing, listening to the radio, watching television and surfing the internet. Not only does she like to read, she can write stories too.

Born in 1998, Marcus is very athletic and participates in all school sports activities, such as baseball, flag football, basketball, kickball, handball, and softball. He is on a baseball team and really enjoys it. He loves to wrestle with his younger brother Omari and play video games together. Marcus appears to be shy in new situations. Once you get to know him, you will enjoy his energetic, affectionate, and delightful personality. His favorite color is green.

Next is Omari, born in 1999. Omari is an easy-going, affectionate, loving and friendly young man. He can make friends easily and has no problem blend in with the adults. He is athletic like his brother and participates in school team activities, such as basketball, baseball, soccer, handball, and tag. He is also on a baseball team. He is very skilled in playing jump rope. Omari enjoys playing video games, wrestling with Marcus, reading books and watching television; particularly the programs on Cartoon Network, Nickelodeon and Disney channels. His favorite food is cookie and favorite color is black.

Then there's Nicholas, born in 2002, Nicholas loves to go to school and be around his friends. Nothing is more important to him than to hang around his siblings.

Finally, the baby of this group is Sabrina. Born in 2003 Sabrina is a happy and friendly child. She likes going to school and play with her friends. When she feels secure with her surroundings, she smiles often and shows her outgoing personality. It can be a challenge when it comes to mealtime for Sabrina. Sabrina is quite picky with her food and likes to take her time eating. She had no problems with pizza though.

We're looking for one family for all six children. If you have a heart for keeping siblings together and understand that special connection needs to be intact, please give us a call.
