Meet Francheska, our Wednesday's Child star of the week. We met Francheska at the Bass Exchange in Sherman Oaks, California for her very first guitar lesson with legendary guitar instructor, Phil Woodward. Francheska also received her very own Fender acoustic guitar from the Wednesday's Child Team.

Francheska loves music and she describes it as something therapeutic for her. We learned she has quite the eclectic taste in music, and is a fan of everything from rap to gospel music, and rock to country. She likes to listen and to sing along, and at one point sang in a choir (which someday she'd love to do again). Her artistic streak doesn't end there. Francheska also loves to draw and has taken a few art classes. She'd like to take more so that she can continue to develop her skills.

Francheska was born in 1991. As she learns with her guitar instructor the basics of tuning and strumming chords, our gal is already composing for the future. She's working hard in school to fine tune her grades and hopes to attend Cal Berkeley and study to be a psychologist. Perhaps she will incorporate music as a therapeutic repertoire for her future clients someday.

When asked what word she would use to describe herself, she's quick to say "Goofy!" Francheska describes goofiness as having silly fun with friends, dancing around and singing. Aside from her fun loving nature, Francheska is outgoing, caring and thoughtful. She is very sincere and genuine, and likes to be helpful and supportive in her all relationships. Her personality has been a huge help to her in the many life transitions that she's gone through, not only in assisting her to make new friends, but also in helping her to keep an upbeat attitude.

When Francheska dreams about a future family, she thinks about a family that would embrace her fun loving nature, and provide love, support and encouragement for her. They would also enjoy sitting around watching her favorite TV shows with her, going to the mall, the movies, and doing girly things like going to the hair and nail salon. Ultimately, Francheska dreams about a family that will help launch her into the next stages of her life.
