Meet Gina, a lovely 14 year old girl who among other things really likes soccer. Gina told us that she would like to join a soccer team but for now, she's an avid arm chair player but a huge fan. Her favorite team is Club America but after this Wednesday's Child shoot, it was no doubt the Los Angeles Galaxy.

We met Gina at the Home Depot Center in Carson, California, the home of the L.A. Galaxy MLS soccer team at their practice. Arm chair player no more, Gina got a one on one training session with the team's star defender – Chris Klein. From dribbling, passing the ball and shooting goals, Gina did it all.

There was also plenty of Galaxy swag to go around, including a personalized jersey, autographed ball from the entire team, photos to remember the day by and a personal invite from Chris Klein to a game.

This young girl born in 1994 is not all about athletics, she's a graceful young lady also. In her own words, she tells us; "...I am really looking forward to my next birthday because I will be fifteen, and would love to celebrate with a Quinceniera. That is a birthday party that celebrates a girl becoming a young lady in the Latino culture. I think it is important for people to know that I am Latina and embrace my culture, but also that I am open to new experiences."

Gina would also like that special family out there to know that she would love to have a family who loves soccer as much as she does and would love a soccer mom and a soccer dad and even an older brother who would practice soccer with her. Gina also loves reading books, drawing and being outdoors. Judging from the way she took to the field...we got that.

Gina would bring much love to a family. She's eager to find that forever home that will help her share significant milestones and allow for her to share important elements of her culture.
