Wednesday's Child

'Tis the week of Christmas and all through the mall, some shoppers were stirring, but we heard another call. The Wednesday's Child team, with three siblings in tow, sought out the one in red from head to toe! And then we heard someone say "Yes, Suhaley, Melody and Clyde – there's Santa in his chair at Baldwin Hills Crenshaw Plaza". And with the help of a not-so-small elf, these three siblings got some pictures with and presents from the jolly one himself!

Suhaley (2003) is the big sister and tends to be a little more on the reserved side in comparison to the younger ones, perhaps because she's keeping a watchful eye on them when they are all together. Suhaley is making satisfactory academic progress in school and gets along well with other children. She likes to play video games, read stories and make jewelry. Suhaley loves to eat out at restaurants such as "Chili's" and currently aspires to become an actress when she grows up.

Melody (2007) is a sweetheart of a girl who loves playing with her siblings and has an affinity to dolls and cartoons. Melody has a healthy appetite but, unlike her sister, prefers to eat at home. Her favorite food is homemade chicken soup with rice. Melody has some minor speech and language delays but it doesn't stop her from expressing herself.

Clyde (2006) is a very active and animated little boy who loves playing with cars, blocks and airplanes. He works really hard in school and is doing well in spite of some autistic features. Clyde is having much success with supportive services in place.

These siblings currently live in two separate homes, so our Christmas list includes a hope that next year (and for many years to come) these three siblings will be able to grow-up sharing one tree, one home and one permanent family. To learn more about this trio and about adoption, please tune in to Wednesday's Child and call 1-866-921- ADOPT (2367). Happy Holidays to all, and to all a Happy New Year from Wednesday's Child!
